

MRS. M. PETERS FOUND IN RIVER

Well Known Woman Drowns in Rock River Where She Was Fishing.

INQUEST IS HELD TODAY

Facts and Circumstances Surrounding Untimely Demise Remain a Mystery.

A verdict of accidental drowning was returned this afternoon at the inquest which was held at the Knox undertaking rooms over the body of Mrs. Margaret Peters, who was found floating in Rock river yesterday shortly after noon by Chris Keyellbrugge.

Mrs. Margaret Hansen, daughter of the deceased, in testifying said that her mother, who was known as Maggie Murray, arose Friday morning and after partaking of breakfast remarked that it was a fine day and that she thought she would go fishing. That was the last seen of her alive. While fishing she must have slipped into the water in some manner and drowned as no reason can be ascertained for her committing suicide. She had not been dependent at any time and had never intimated to any one that she contemplated taking her life.

SAW CLOTHING IN WATER.

Keyellbrugge testified that he was rowing up Rock river and not far from its mouth west of the city, saw a dress floating in the water about six feet from the shore. Upon rowing back to investigate he found that it was the body of a woman. He towed the body to shore and then notified the coroner.

Deceased was born March 30, 1862, and had made her home in Rock Island since 1888. She was united in marriage in 1881 to Gilbert Murray, who preceded her in death seven years ago. She was later united in marriage to a Rock Island man by the name of Peters.

Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. Anna Shannon of St. Paul; Mrs. Jeanette Johnson of Kansas City, and Mrs. Marguerite Hansen of Rock Island, and Gilbert and James Murray. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Knox chapel with interment in Chippawack cemetery.

Police News

In a free-for-all Saturday night on Twenty-fourth street and Fifth avenue, Ed Seara and William King were stabbed by W. E. Johns, who inflicted the wounds with a pocket knife.

NOT SALTS AND PILLS. "CASCARETS"

If constipated, bilious headachy, stomach sour, take a Cascaret.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never gripe or sicken.

World Series Scores

The Argus, following its custom, will receive the results of the world's series of baseball games direct from the playing field over its own special wire. Every play will be recorded and the story of the game will be printed in detail in The Argus of the date on which it is played. The news will be furnished by Associated Press experts, who will have seats in the press box at Boston and New York.

All three men are held at the jail, and will be tried tomorrow morning.

Fred Wanke and Joel Cochran, who were trespassers on the premises of Joseph Schuermann, South Rock Island, had fines of $100 suspended over their heads, on their promise to be good.

A disorderly house run by Miss Susie Matlock, colored, was raided by the police Saturday night, three women and one man being caught in the net. They all paid fines of $10 and costs this morning.

SECOND DR. JEKYL NABBED BY POLICE

Attempts to Rob Louis C. Pfah
Grocery Sunday but Is Interrupted.

A man with a dual personality, much similar to that portrayed in the story of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde fell into the clutches of the police early Sunday morning, while in the act of breaking into the grocery store of Louis C. Pfah, Fourteenth street and Third avenue. His name is Chester Aten. This morning Aten had no remembrance of his desperate deed of Sunday morning. From 4 o'clock in the afternoon his mind was a blank, due to drink he says. He is in jail for 20 days.

The automobile stolen from Jacob Ramser of this city Saturday night was located on a street in Moline today. It was punctured and the man who had stolen it had disappeared after vain efforts to repair the damage.

ROMANCES OF PORCELAIN.

The Climax to Palissy's Sixteen Years of Misery.

The maker of porcelain and pottery has decidedly the most exciting and romantic trade in the world.

The great factories of Sevres and Dresden were founded by Bernard Palissy. This man invented white enamel, but it took him sixteen years to make the invention—sixteen years of hunger, misery and persecution, which culminated in the episode, used in H. A. Jones' play "The Middleman," wherein Palissy maintained his furnace fire by burning all the furniture in his house and finally opened the furnace door to find within the place which he had sought throughout the best years of his life.

Bottger invented hard porcelain. He was an alchemist, and one day, chancing to discover that his powdered wig was unusually heavy, he inquired the cause and found that the weight was due to the kaolin with which the wig was powdered. This kaolin was the substance for lack of which Bottger's investigations had for years failed.

When Eiers opened a porcelain factory at Burslem, England, he employed the most stupid and illiterate workmen, so that his secret processes might not become known. But Samuel Astbury resolved to learn the Eiers method, and, affecting ignorance and stupidity, he got a place in the factory, mastered all of Eiers' secrets and eventually opened a plant of his own, wherein he duplicated in every detail the work of Eiers.

The pleasant purgative effect experienced by all who use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and the healthy condition of the body and mind which they create, makes one feel joyful. Sold by all druggists.—(Advertisement.)

GRAND JURY FOR SEPTEMBER TERM MAKES A REPORT

The grand jury for the September term of court reported this afternoon after having been in session off and on since Sept. 16. The report was final and contained, as far as could be learned at press time, some 25 true bills in addition to a considerable number of informations to be filed in the county court. The exact nature of the report was withheld pending a number of arrests which the indictments call for, but something sensational was promised, involving it is understood the recall petitions.

Judge E. C. Graves of Geneseo was on the bench.

GUN SHOT WOUND MAY PROVE FATAL

Moline Boy, Fired Upon by Playmate, Lying in Hospital at Point of Death.

Hovering between life and death, William Lay, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Lay, 707 Seventeenth street, Moline, is lying at the Moline hospital with a gun shot wound in the pit of his stomach, inflicted by Alvin Bloom, also of Moline. If the boy can live for a week, physicians entertain hopes for his recovery. The shooting took place Saturday afternoon and followed a mock robbery.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Condo have returned from their wedding trip through the east and will soon be at home in the Duray apartments in Moline.

ERICSON BEQUEST CONDITIONS MET

Augustana's Campaign to Raise
$47,472.31 Successfully
Concluded Saturday.

24 HOURS BEFORE LIMIT

Total Endowment Fund Now Nearly $500,000—Great Rejoicing at College.

Augustana college is $117,000 richer. Announcement of success in the campaign to win the Ericson bequest of $40,000 and the C. A. Smith donation of $25,000 was made by Dr. Gustav Andreen, president of the institution, at chapel exercises this morning. Dr. Andreen's announcement that victory had been achieved was short but dramatic. The campaign to secure $46,000 was not completed until Saturday noon, 24 hours before the appointed time, when the mark was reached and surpassed. The total amount raised by the college to meet the terms of the Ericson bequest was $47,472.31.

The addition of $117,000 to the jubilee endowment fund of approximately $275,000 raised two years ago, together with other funds and property possessed by the college from which income is derived, brings the total endowment fund of the institution to nearly $500,000, which practically assures Augustana's place in the educational world for all future. In making the announcement, Dr. Andreen said:

VICTORY IS RECORDED.

"I know that you already appreciate that the annals of Augustana for Oct. 6, 1912, will not record a defeat but a victory. I need hardly inform you that the conditions of the Ericson bequest were fulfilled last Saturday noon.

"When word reached the college several months ago that Senator Ericson had made a bequest of $56,000 to the college on condition that it would raise $46,000, many of us wondered if it would be possible. We realized how difficult it would be to undertake so large a thing so soon after the raising of the jubilee fund. However, our people responded nobly to the work.

LUTHER LEAGUES TAKE LEAD.

"The first to come forward and help were the young people's societies. The Luther leagues of the Green Bay, Mich., district were the first to assist with a donation of $250. The Ishpeming, Mich., district next responded with $500. Then the Rock Island, Galesburg and Rockford districts each came forward with $1,000. Altogether the Luther leagues of the synod raised between $11,000 and $13,000.

"Then the soliciting was begun, more especially in the Mississippi valley. The largest army that went forth was composed of the students themselves, 150 strong, who canvassed the tricolored in the last stages of the campaign. The result was that $1,000 was secured in this manner.

DOUBTFUL A MONTH AGO.

"About a month ago as Professor Kempe and I looked over the situation we were greatly apprehensive that we would not succeed. The subscriptions were advancing satisfactorily, but the cash came in slowly. Then Dr. L. A. Johnston, president of the synod, made a proclamation to the Sunday schools and churches that they should assist in the work. The response was slow at first, but two weeks ago money began to literally pour in, both by mail and telegraph. During the last week the treasurer's office was swamped with contributions, the office force being required to work until 4 a. m. one night in order to check them over.

"Last Saturday morning the mark had not been reached but the morning mail again brought a flood of contributions, both large and small. I accompanied Professor Mepe when he made the last deposit in the bank and when the book was handed back we saw that the balance showed $47,472.31. But as I looked at that book I saw something more. I saw a united people, united in a common cause. I saw them from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from Texas to Canada joining together, old and young, gray-haired and little children, to accomplish this work. I saw the work of God, blessing his institution and the work He had called upon us to perform.

TRIBUTE TO PROFESSORS.

"We are the object of much solicitude and progress. There is much solicitude for you, who are to be the leaders of a great people. You have a great work to perform and you need to be faithful to the trust that is given you and to prove worthy of it. We are indeed a happy family at Augustana and I hope that we will remain intact."

Here President Andreen took occasion to pay tribute to the faculty of the institution and expressed the hope that it would not be broken. He declared that Professor Sebellus had just declined a call elsewhere, and that Professor Anderson had also been offered a tempting position. He hoped, however, that the latter would also decide to remain at Augustana.

$2,000 FROM DENKMANN.

President Andreen also announced that a further contribution had been received from the Denkmann heirs in the form of a check for $2,000 received from Mrs. John H. Hauberg last Friday. The money will be used for the purchase of books for the Denkmann Memorial library. This together with other contributions to the Ericson fund received late Saturday and today, will probably bring the total close to $50,000.

Following Dr. Andreen's address he called upon Rev. N. J. Forsberg, secretary of the college board of directors, for a short speech. The latter responded, paying high tribute to the work of Dr. Andreen, whom he characterized as "Our Augustana Roosevelt of expansion." Rev. N. Nordgren, formerly of Galva, but now of Moline, also spoke briefly. He was a student of Augustana when the college was located at Paxton.

WOULD ALSO KEEP PROFESSOR.

Rev. A. W. Bergstrom, pastor of the First church, Moline, also spoke as representative of the later alumni of the institution. He linked the name of Professor I. M. Anderson with the Ericson fund and declared that "if the board of directors will take steps to secure Professor Anderson for the institution, we of Moline will rejoice as much as if another $117,000 were secured for the college."

"The future crop of millionaires in Moline," said Mr. Bergstrom, "is very promising. In a few years we hope to send a few millions up to Augustana to make it a first-class university. If Rock Island decides to do this before Moline gets ready, I am sure that, for once, Moline will not be jealous of its neighbor."

passing upstairs to his room on the fourth floor, poked his head in at the door.

"What are you reading, Sam?" he asked.

"Oh, nothing much—a so called funny book. One of these days I'll write a funnier book than that myself."

Brownell laughed.

"No, you won't, Sam," he said. "You are too lazy ever to write a book."

A good many years later, when the name Mark Twain had begun to stand for American humor, the owner of it gave his "Sandwich Islands" lecture in Keokuk. Speaking of the unreliability of the islanders, he said:

"The king is, I believe, the greatest liar on the face of the earth except one, and I am very sorry to locate that one right here in the city of Keokuk in the person of Ed Brownell."

Thirteen at Dinner.

Thirteen at dinner is an old Norse myth. It was deemed unlucky because Loki, god of malice, once intruded, making thirteen guests, and Baldr, the brilliant god, was slain at the instigation of Loki, who prevailed upon Hodur, a strong but blind god, to throw Mistel, the mistletoe, at Baldr, perforating the latter and letting out his divine soul.

Skillful Flattery.

"How well you look!"
"Do you think so?"
"Yes, indeed, I do. I never saw you looking better in my life."

"I'm so glad to hear you say so. I hope you mean it."

"I really do. Only the other night I was saying to my husband that there are a lot of women I know who aren't half so old as you that don't look nearly so young."—Detroit Free Press
